22nd March 2008 Report

The SV Geosounder returned to Geraldton, Western Australia on Thursday 20th of March 2008. The demobilisation of the Williamson Sonar Spread has been completed and the mobilisation of an ROV team and specialist deepwater camera and lighting equipment, is currently underway.

The SV Geosounder is expected to depart late Easter weekend where the Finding Sydney Foundation Search Diary Blog will recommence with further updates. The highly anticipated imagery of the HMAS Sydney II and HSK Kormoran from the ROV team is expected to be published at <http://www.findingsydney.com>, late next week.
